

amphibian and reptile conservation

Conservation Volunteer Group

A new mid-week volunteer group is being established to carry out practical conservation work on internationally important heathland sites in and around Surrey

Come along to:

- Get fresh air and exercise
- Learn more about wildlife and conservation
- Help manage critically important nature reserves
- Have a rewarding experience and develop new skills
- Meet new people
- Have fun!

First task – Scrub clearance at CROOKSBRY COMMON on 12th January 2012
Meet 9am at the car park off Seale Road
(grid ref: SU 895 453)

Whether you're available for the whole day or a few hours, your help is greatly appreciated
All ages and experience levels welcome

For more information contact:

Matthew Dowse, Weald Field Officer
Matthew.Dowse@arc-trust.org
07810 770566

